AUTHORSHIP, ORIGINALITY AND RIGHTS DECLARATION

Title of the work

Authors (in order of authorship; three at most)

Full name	Institution and country	Email	ORCID

The undersigned authors declare, regarding the work named above, that:

1. The work is original and unpublished: it has not been published, in whole or in part, is not under review elsewhere, and will not be submitted elsewhere while the journal is considering it.
2. All authors took part in preparing it, have read and approved the submitted version, and take responsibility for its content. No one who meets the authorship criteria has been left out.
3. None of the data presented has been plagiarised, fabricated, manipulated or distorted. The original sources on which the work is based are identified and cited, as are theories and data from other published work.
4. The article states the source of every figure, table, dataset, photograph and image, and the authors provide the permissions needed to reproduce them. The authors bear the cost of reproduction rights and any consequence of infringing intellectual or commercial property rights.
5. If generative artificial intelligence tools were used, their use is declared in the manuscript in accordance with the journal's AI Policy. No AI tool is listed as an author.
6. Possible conflicts of interest and sources of funding for the work are declared here (if there are none, write “none”): _____
7. The authors accept the style and typographical revisions the Editorial Board considers necessary, and will make the corrections requested in peer review as soon as possible.
8. The authors know and accept the journal's editorial policy, author guidelines, peer review process, and open access and self-archiving policies.
9. Publication of the work carries no payment of any kind.

Transfer of rights, licence and self-archiving

If the work is accepted, the authors transfer to Arte y Ciudad. Revista de Investigación, exclusively, worldwide and for the maximum term of legal protection, the rights of reproduction, distribution, communication to the public (including making the work available online) and transformation of the work, in any format and medium, for its publication in the journal and its open-access dissemination under the Creative Commons licence the journal applies (currently CC BY-NC 4.0). The authors keep their moral rights.

The work will be published open access under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 4.0 International licence (CC BY-NC 4.0), which allows it to be copied, distributed and adapted for non-commercial purposes, crediting its authors and its original publication in the journal. Any commercial use requires the journal's permission.

The transfer does not prevent the authors from depositing the accepted and published versions in accordance with the journal's self-archiving policy.

The personal data in this form will be used only for the editorial handling of the work and will not be shared with third parties, in accordance with the journal's privacy statement.
